

Take hands in hands like Water does

We ask concrete actions and prevention measures against global water pollution

August the 6th, 2008. Hokkaido, Japan.
Feminine Conference on Water Tae Nampoh

To every Head of State on the Earth,

We are inhabitants of the Earth. So are you. It is the same to all creatures living on the Earth such as animals, plants, fish, insects, minerals and all other natural beings. Thanks to the existence of the planet Earth, we can live our lives, acquire experiences to learn and grow. As one of brothers and sisters on the Earth, we ask you to consider the followings:

One of the most important issues we face at is water pollution caused by chemical substances including poison. Solutions of water pollution should be treated as the issue of worldwide significance by all countries with their integrations and cooperation. It is only because water circulates over, on and in the Earth. The harmful effects of water pollution go steadily without our notice. Please act before many life beings begin to suffer. The solutions of water pollution in a cross-sectional manner throughout the world should be dealt with as the top priority above all other antipollution measures for the global environment. We propose that water pollution caused by chemical substances including poison should be inhibited, and no place of oceans, rivers, groundwater and soils should remain discharging polluted water.

The global environment originally depends on water. Water is the source of life. We all are composed of water. No one can live a sound life without clean water. But poisoned water has been left discharged into rivers and oceans. Even a little amount of poisoned water could eventually effect on everywhere.

What is a country? The Earth has been "a country", hasn't it? Please see how the air, wind and water circulate. We cannot divide and stop their work. If many countries continue their political act only to promote their own interests, all the existing countries including yours may have very hard time causing even collapse of cultures and civilizations of the Earth. We can, however, choose another way. We can choose a hopeful way. We can choose the way of wisdom, love and courage. Listen to Mother Gaia, the planet of water, in your heart. Please use your true wisdom and power for her. Please remember why you are allowed to be one of the heads of your country at this age. Please stand up now. Encourage water quality conservation in your country. Start decontamination and prevention of poisonous chemical substances. Prohibit water pollution. First, protect life beings from water pollution in your country. Next, do the same for those who live in your neighboring countries. Then do the same for those who live as far as the place behind your country. Pass the beautiful nature to your/our descendants, by preserving the quality and safety of water.

We propose establishment of the standard criteria for water pollution available throughout the world. Address water issues by the highest standard in the world as well as that in your country, to prevent occurrence and invasion of polluted water in your country. Take hands in hands with your neighboring countries to preserve the pure water environment of the Earth, your home, and let your country prosper in the true sense.
